

1946 New York Subway Captured By 17-Year-Old Stanley Kubrick

Before Stanley Kubric knew he was going to make some of the best sci-fi and horror movies ever (like A Clockwork Orange and cult indie classic The Shining), his first claim to fame came as a 17-year-old photographer for LOOK magazine. He took these pictures in the New York subway system over two weeks in 1946.

READ MORE

Like deMilked on Facebook

Like deMilked on Facebook

Like deMilked on Facebook

Like deMilked on Facebook

Like deMilked on Facebook

Like deMilked on Facebook

Like deMilked on Facebook

142 shares

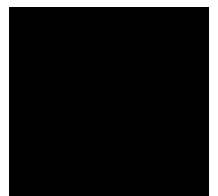

Martynas Klimas

Writes like a mad dervish, rolls to dodge responsibility, might have bitten the Moon once.

Got wisdom to pour?

Write a comment...

500-

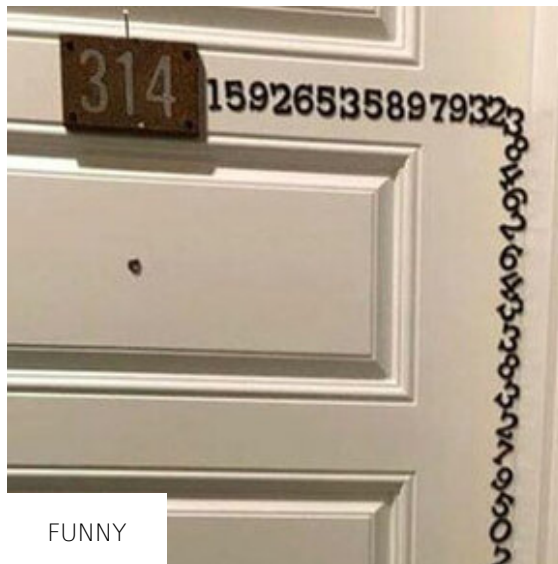

Most popular articles

Like deMilked on Facebook

FUNNY

This High School
Allowed Seniors To Wear Costumes In Their Student IDs, And
They Absolutely Nailed
It (30 New Pics)
I Am The Ad!

FUNNY

30 Of The Worst
Science Jokes Shared
By The 'Bad Science
Jokes' Instagram
Account

Like deMilked on Facebook

30 Times Tattoo Artists Made Incredible Scar And Birthmark Cover Up Tattoos (New Pics)

You can choose not to wear a mask.
Then you must also remove all your clothes to enter.

FUNNY

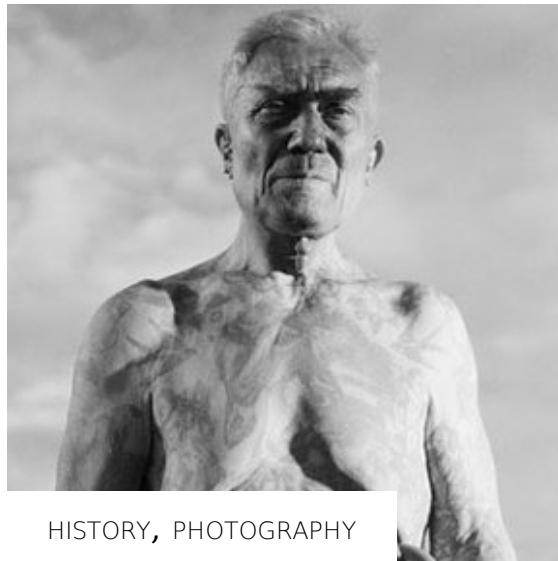

30 Times People Came Across Signs That Were Too Funny Not To Share

PHOTOGRAPHY

20 Of The Most Impressive Images Submitted For This Year's Urban Photo Awards Competition

Related Articles

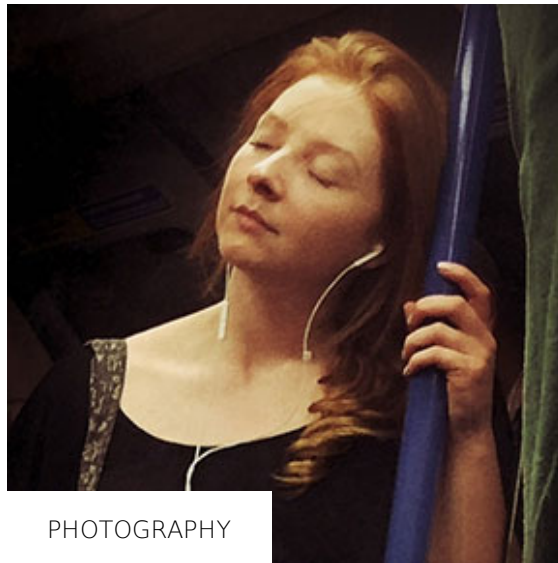

HISTORY, PHOTOGRAPHY

17-Year-Old Stanley Kubrick's Photos From 1940s New York Reveal That He Was Always A Genius

I Am The Ad!

Like deMilked on Facebook

PHOTOGRAPHY

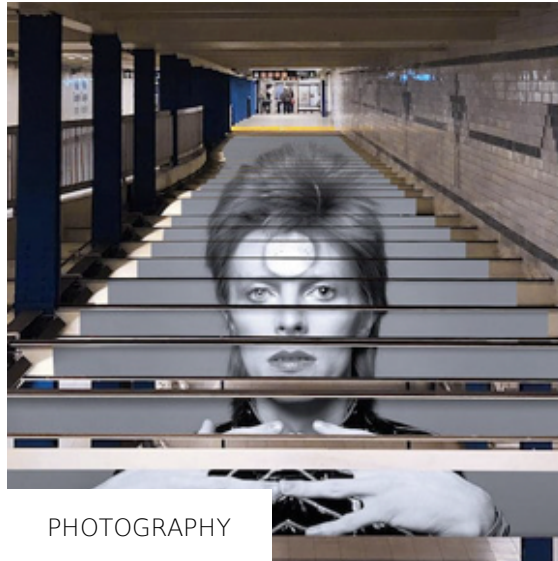

Secretly Captured Subway Portraits As 16th-Century Paintings

ILLUSTRATION

This Artist Brings The Subway Back To Life With His Colorful Subway Monsters

Like deMilked on Facebook

A Tribute To David Bowie Covers NYC Subway Station Honoring The Legend In The Most Epic Way

20-Year-Old Marilyn Monroe Photographs On Malibu Beach In 1946

Tags

full-post, Kubric, LOOK magazine, New York, New York Subway retro photography Stanley Kubric subway

Like deMilked on Facebook

© 2010-2021 DeMilked. Reproduction without explicit permission is prohibited. All Rights Reserved.

Like deMilked on Facebook